Kingdom of Saudi Arabia

Seeks: National Academic Supervisor

Start Date: July 2017

Application Deadline: December 31, 2016

Organization:

Rowad Al Khaleej International Schools (RAIS) is a private school group in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. We are currently looking for a National Academic Supervisor to oversee academic quality and development in all our schools Kingdom-wide. The new National Academic Supervisor will help lead our schools alongside the national administrative team in their pursuit of academic excellence in the Kingdom.

RAIS has a current enrollment of more than 3,000 students in 8 schools in grades preK-12, with planned expansion of 25 further schools in the next 5 years. We serve a predominantly Saudi student population, with a focus on high academic achievement and foreign (US, UK, etc.) university preparation.

Position:

The ideal candidate for this position should have the appropriate education degrees and credentials, plus experience in an academic leadership position. They should be committed to high standards and have the necessary background to oversee the development and quality control of a uniform standard of nation-wide curriculum and instruction. They should have the desire to promote a curriculum and instructional practices that are engaging, innovative and enriching, as well as to ensure the horizontal and vertical alignment from pre-Kindergarten to grade 12. They should also have experience in guiding schools through accreditation applications and processes, Applicants should be instructional leaders capable of modeling best teaching practices and of creating a program that is supportive of all students. Most importantly, applicants should understand their role as a unifying academic leader for all schools and desire to ensure alignment across the entire school group.

Application Instructions:

Candidates should send their complete applications with a letter of interest directed to Mr. Thierry Reginald Park, Vice President, Education: thierrypark@rais.edu.sa
