A More Global Perspective

Liz Duffy, ISS President

One of the priorities of ISS's strategic plan is embracing a more global, rather than overseas American, perspective. I was reminded of the value of that commitment last month, when I had the pleasure of leading a design thinking workshop at our LEVEL 5 Creativity and Innovation Hub in Shenzhen, China. The focus of the two-day workshop was on designing equitable schools for students, faculty and staff.

Summer Fellowship Opportunity for Humanities Teachers

Athena is looking for high school English, history, humanities, and religion/philosophy teachers to join their Summer Fellowship cohort. Hungry to join a community of educators around the world? Eager to share your best and favorite assignments, classroom activities and discussion questions? Excited to offer and receive feedback?

Learn More About Athena Summer Fellowships

The Athena Summer Fellowship is not geographically restricted; teachers can participate from any location with internet access. The 2018 cohort will support up to 50 teachers. Applications close on May 24. Fellowships include a $500 stipend.
