From Bianca Koster to All panelists: (08:20 AM)

- We do morning Wake & Shake routine at 9:00 am. Combined classes - 10 minutes Google Meet where different teachers 'surprise' the students with a funny/engaging/active session e.g. Cosmic Yoga, Go Noodle, or do quick Tabata morning exercises to stay fit. It's optional, but many kids join.

From Jeanette Coffren to All panelists: (08:20 AM)

- One thing our school did was have the first week of online with EC and ES students be fun activities to familiarize them with the online tools. Kids posted pictures of their workspace, favorite book, a video of them exercising at home...

- Hi Chris!!!! ... and Kiki and Zoe and Eleftheria and Roula of course! ;) So great to see you all here!!!

From Christina Birbil to All panelists and attendees: (08:24 AM)

- Hey all ACSers

From Amos Mc to All panelists and attendees: (08:24 AM)

From Jacqui Stransky to All panelists: (08:25 AM)

From Laura Benson to All panelists and attendees: (08:34 AM)

From Amber Birch Trujillo to All panelists: (08:36 AM)

- that would be really helpful

From Alejandra Cruz-Milano to All panelists: (08:36 AM)

- What would you recommend for school communities where parents don't speak English?
- Low internet connection( third world countries)? & supporting kids with learning difficulties?
- How do you help and support parents in SEL?

- Padlet

From Laura Benson to All panelists and attendees: (08:37 AM)

- Thanks, Tracy!

From Marie Marchand to All panelists and attendees: (08:37 AM)

- Hello, my school use Tapestry, similar to SeeSaw

From Judy Imamudeen to All panelists and attendees: (08:38 AM)

- What about Teach Your Monster to Read? That's free on the web-but the app is 4.99 USD

From Catherine Low to All panelists and attendees: (08:38 AM)

- We got the same advice from our school librarian about taking the videos down after the closure and then we would be covered with copyright laws.

From Melody Meade to All panelists: (08:38 AM)

- We used google slides as a format to roll out. This was a "gentle" beginning and got the division on board.

From Isla Gillespie to All panelists: (08:38 AM)

- been using Tapestry too for the last 7 weeks. they have now adapted the app to make it easier for teachers and parents.

From Judy Imamudeen to All panelists and attendees: (08:39 AM)

- We've also used LOOM for screen casting.

From Antonella Coronel to All panelists and attendees: (08:39 AM)

- We use Tapestry in our school and they have upgraded to have clickable links, longer video uploads as well

From Sean Forde to All panelists and attendees: (08:39 AM)

- <https://help.seesaw.me/hc/en-us/articles/115005120583-Seesaw-Icon-Shortcut>

From Fiorella Thornberry to All panelists: (08:39 AM)

- Hello from Lima peru

From Antonella Coronel to All panelists and attendees: (08:39 AM)

- you are also able to load pdf and word documents

From Judy Imamudeen to All panelists and attendees: (08:40 AM)

- Snap camera—is that an add-on in Zoom?

From Sean Forde to All panelists and attendees: (08:40 AM)

- <https://snapcamera.snapchat.com/download/>

From Bianca Koster to All panelists: (08:40 AM)

- Brainpop is also for free!

From Sean Forde to All panelists and attendees: (08:41 AM)

- You'll need to download it, have it open during your video session (Zoom & Meet work) and change the filters within the Snap Camera platform :)

From Liz Cho to All panelists: (08:41 AM)

- Zoom also allows you to choose your background - having a classroom background is possible, or the beach, the jungle, etc. Can get creative w little ones.

From Catherine Low to All panelists and attendees: (08:41 AM)

- That would be my best advice too. Send any plans before the end of working hours on the Friday before so then parents have some more access to a printer. Most of my families do not have printers at home.

From Bianca Koster to All panelists: (08:42 AM)

- We provide 1x per week pick up of resources including printed pack & hands-on materials/toys.

From Laura Benson to All panelists and attendees: (08:42 AM)

- Right, printing and handouts in one document really make a supportive difference!

From Margo Tripsa to All panelists and attendees: (08:43 AM)

- 2 weeks into Online learning, but I am glad I did not have to print out anything....kids were asked to create, write on paper, submit audio content, video content, created writing pieces, but no worksheets....

From Catherine Low to All panelists and attendees: (08:43 AM)

- Also yes weekly works way better for us as well. Also Choice boards (Tic Tac Toe) boards have worked well. Yes everything is on one word and PDF for us and parents to open and print off one time.

From Addie Mayberry to All panelists: (08:43 AM)

- When you send it out weekly do children respond everyday or once a week?

From Zakia Hoque to All panelists: (08:43 AM)

- what does that look like? 2 week learning?

From Marie Laramée to All panelists: (08:43 AM)

- We're in week 7 of online learning. Lots of people in lockdown or quarantine won't be able to go to printer shop. Use manipulative they will have at home: ie, patterns with socks, using bottle caps for math, lots of card adding and matching games

From Zakia Hoque to All panelists: (08:44 AM)

- Do you send that via email?

From Judy Imamudeen to All panelists and attendees: (08:44 AM)

- Thank you—our specialists are struggling. (:

From Sean Forde to All panelists and attendees: (08:44 AM)

- A fun example of choice boards within Seesaw:
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=hYOryeve24l&feature=youtu.be>

From Timi Meszaros to All panelists and attendees: (08:44 AM)

- Specialist:

From Lisa Mulligan to All panelists and attendees: (08:44 AM)

- We're one week in and posting daily to parents. There has definitely been drop off over the week.

From Melody Meade to All panelists: (08:44 AM)

- Music is recording individual birthday songs. Weekly specialists messages and videos with go ahead and try this activities.

From Suzanne Payne to All panelists: (08:45 AM)

- Lots of great ideas, thanks! :)

From Liz Cho to All panelists: (08:46 AM)

- Hey, panelists - any way to talk about how you manage early years assessment? How do we prove to tuition paying parents that virtual learning is still helping their students do that - learn?

From Lisa Ferguson to All panelists: (08:46 AM)

- I am a specialist of art/music and PE for 3-4 year olds....I send out a grid, like a bingo card, in Seesaw. Then I join a zoom meeting once a week for each class where I share the class with the homeroom teacher or TA. I focus on movement and dance, music and singing.

From Antonella Coronel to All panelists and attendees: (08:46 AM)

- Our specialists are sharing activities however in eyfs they don't have much interaction just yet because we are figuring out how to do this since with older grades they do online classes

From Melody Meade to All panelists: (08:46 AM)

- Friday we use not as specialist day, but as a day for reflection and sharing. It's been a good community breather.

From Jeanette Coffren to All panelists and attendees: (08:46 AM)

- We are also taking it slowly. All EC/ES is currently asynchronous (2nd week). Our specialists each have a lesson loaded to the class SeeSaw, one day per week. For example Art Monday, Music Tuesday, PE Wed, Counselor Thurs, Librarian Friday

From Amber Birch Trujillo to All panelists: (08:47 AM)

- how are your specialists accessing homeroom seesaw?

From Christina Birbil to All panelists and attendees: (08:47 AM)

- How do you suggest handling all the work parents send you. - how to file, do we keep copies of everything? etc

From Bianca Koster to All panelists: (08:47 AM)

- We have facilitated one on one teacher/parent/student meetings after 5 weeks to check in with them and aks for feedback/advice. Also sent out surveys after week 1, and later on.

From Melody Meade to All panelists: (08:48 AM)

- Include all community members. Don't underestimate. We included our assistants who were terrified. They are making mini videos and every tech step is brand new for them.

From Giselle Parodi to All panelists: (08:48 AM)

- thank you very much for your help. I must go for a few minutes to my early meeting.

- To keep kids work together I have added folders on my drive and have parents upload,

From Chris Limone to All panelists and attendees: (08:52 AM)

- Oops, parents upload kids work in photos or other form in folders on Drive

From Sarah Preval to All panelists: (08:52 AM)

- I would love you talk about what happens if this goes into term 3... with so many free resources now for parents, why would they bother to pay school fees for term 3? Why are we needed when they can 'teach' their kids for free at home?

From Chris Passons to All panelists and attendees: (08:52 AM)

- Christina- we created Google Folders for each one of our students. Then shared the link to the child's folder with the parent. Parents upload the work in their child's folder and can only see their child's folder .

From Christina Birbil to All panelists and attendees: (08:52 AM)

- That take the stress away - I've been compiling everyone's work as they deliver it - even pics of the work in progress and not the finished project - it's very time consuming and almost feels super random and chaotic in terms of organization

From Angela Spiliot to All panelists and attendees: (08:52 AM)

- I have made folders with each assignment and when the images come in.. I save the learning in the appropriate folder.

folders there is also a document in which teachers write feedback to students about their work.
